FRUIT STEAMER BREWSTER, WHICH WAS ASHORE FOR AN HOUR OFF SWAMPSCOTT THIS MORNING

Rebels in Sveaborg Forts Rout Charge by Czar's Troops; NEW MUTINY AT CRONSTADT

100 REPORTED DEAD IN FRESH OUTBREAK.
CZAR PREPARES FOR FLIGHT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 2.—A mutiny has occurred at Cronstadt. There has been serious fighting and the casualties are known to have numbered 100. Admiral Beklemishev is among the wounded.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 2.—The wild rumors are in circulation, one of which, to the effect that a mutiny has broken out at Cronstadt, has caused the utmost alarm, which has been increased by the fact that telephone communication with Cronstadt is again interrupted.

It is asserted that four mutinous warships have arrived at Cronstadt and that the guns of that fortress have been trained on them, but that fire has not yet been opened.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 2.—The latest news received here from Helsingfors says that the mutineers have gained control of the whole of Sveaborg fortress except the forts of Sandham and Harnäs, which are controlled by the seven islands within the fortifications.

The explosion of a magazine on Uppsalmen Island killed forty of the mutineers. The loyal troops have held heavily during the fighting.

MUTINEERS ROUT CHARGE BY TROOPS

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 2.—That the mutineers were still in control of the situation at Sveaborg yesterday was the statement of a correspondent, based on personal investigation.

The mutinous artillerymen at 7 o'clock p. m. were still holding out, aided by the remnants of sailors and miners which had been the mutiny.

Throughout the day an artillery battle was fought between the north and south batteries of the main island of Sveaborg. From a point of vantage, the correspondent was able to see shells occasionally strike the barracks and fortifications, causing fire to start up.

The mutineers as at this time seemed to have the upper hand, and the Russian commander-in-chief, General von Essen, had ordered the infantry to the furthest part of the island, where he was holding out.

CZAR REPORTED READY FOR FLIGHT

Special Cable to Boston American.—LONDON, Aug. 2.—With the rebels at Helsingfors still unconquered and fighting desperately against the troops of despotism, and a fresh mutiny in the Russian fleet at Hango, Finland, Nicholas is reported to have completed all arrangements for flight from the capital.

The czar's imperial yacht Polar star, at the present day with arms up and ready for orders that will take the last of the Helsingfors rebels from the danger of revolution.

SCHOOL HOUSE GRAFT CHARGE IS IGNORED

CHAIRMAN OF BOARD SAYS IT IS "MINDING ITS OWN BUSINESS."

The Boston Schoolhouse Commission is not investigating the work we shall turn the finding over to the mayor. In the meantime we have been waiting for the architect to have something to say. The architect should be ready to go to the mayor for the inspection of the work. We are not going to interfere with the business of the architect.

Charge in Open Letter.—Mr. Moran's new charge is made in an open letter to Mayor Fitzgerald, as the result of personal investigations on the part of the commission. The letter is signed by the chairman of the commission, Mr. R. C. Clifton Sturge.

Other People Also.—This leaves the pleasing inference that some other people are not minding their own business, and that it might be better if they did.

Chairman Sturge was asked today if he or any other member of the schoolhouse commission had anything to say regarding the Mayor's letter. Chairman Sturge said: "We have no right to make any statement of the work of the normal school buildings. When we get a report from the architect, we will investigate it."

Work on the foundation has been stopped pending the action of the Mayor.

Brewster Struck Off Swampscott, but Quickly Got Off—Trawler Spray and Norwegian Steamship Collide in Harbor—Not Badly Damaged, Says Captain of Spray.

In one of the thickest fogs that has hung over the Massachusetts coast in years the steamship Brewster of the United Fruit Company struck off Gallup's Point, Swampscott, to-day, and the steam trawler Spray and the Norwegian steamship Tancred collided off Boston Light.

The Brewster was pulled off by tugs after being on the rocks less than half an hour. Apparently she was not damaged, for she headed immediately out of the harbor and made toward Boston, where she docked at noon.

Tugs Cynthia and Bradley, sent from Boston on receipt of the news by Captain Anderson, the marine superintendent of the United Fruit Company, were unable to pick up the Brewster, evidently passing her in the fog.

NEITHER INJURED.
At the time of the collision between the Tancred and the Spray the trawler was making her way to port from Georges Banks with a cargo of fish, while the Tancred was at anchor.

In the very heavy fog the Spray ran into the Tancred, striking her on the port side aft. The trawler scraped along the other vessel's side and lost her foremast gear.

Neither vessel was badly damaged, according to Captain Clark of the Spray. He says that he heard no fog horn signals from the Tancred.

Immediately after the collision, which occurred about 7 o'clock, the Tancred covered about 7 o'clock, the Tancred sailed on her way.

The Brewster struck about 8:30, and was even caught shortly toward the point of the New Ocean House. Her striking on the rock was extremely gentle, and she sustained no serious damage.

SIREN AROUSED QUESTS.
Her siren aroused the guests at the hotel. Roger White of New York, who is stopping at the hotel, got off in a dory and talked with the men aboard. Captain Clark asked White to send word to the United Fruit people and to ask for tugs.

Kein got the message first, and a tug reached the point within a short time. Finally she arrived by the steamer's side before the trawler was seen to slip away into deep water.

Before the arrival of the Nebula steamer, who put off their boat, the Brewster turned about and slowly went out of the harbor.

A large crowd of people gathered on the shore, just owing to the thickness of the fog, were barely able to see the stranded craft. At no time was she in danger.

IS CHARTERED VESSEL.
The Brewster is one of the four steamships that have been under charter to the United Fruit Company for the last three years. The others are the Mount Shrewsbury and the Baker. The Brewster was chartered by the company.
